Heavy Exports Are Predicted Next Crop Year

Heavy exports of Canadian grain during the crop year 1943-44 were predicted by Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, and member of parliament for Edmonton West, who arrived here on Monday morning for a 10-day stay in the city.

Accompanied by his private secretary D. Walter Thomson, he is a guest at the Macdonald hotel. He will address the annual meeting of the Alberta Wheat Pool at Calgary on Thursday and also will address a meeting at Drumheller.

Commenting on the grain situation Mr. MacKinnon stated that at the end of the present crop year the United States surplus of wheat will be reduced to nominal proportions, and there will be a considerable reduction in the volume of grain carried over in Canada. He said that during the last six months a substantial market for Canadian grain has developed in the United States where there is a steadily increasing demand for wheat, oats and barley for feed purposes.

Asked if there was a possibility of a general election early next year, Mr. MacKinnon stated that there had been no discussion at Ottawa on this matter.

Mr. MacKinnon stated that the eastern feed grain situation was still acute in spite of large exports.

Development of Northern Sands

Development of the McMurray tar sands is being proceeded with as rapidly as possible, and a further $300,000 was appropriated recently for this. Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, and member of parliament for Edmonton West, stated on his arrival here Monday for a short visit to the city. The total vote to date for development work on these sands is $850,000.

He said that the additional $300,000 had been allocated to carry on the development work, and that further sums would be voted as the development progressed. The power plant and separator plant will be completed and ready for operation by December, he stated.

With regard to the refinery Mr. MacKinnon stated there had been some additional delay encountered as the Universal Oil Products Co., Chicago, had been unable to make its report to the government on the best methods of refining the tar sands products. He said that this report will be delivered in time to permit the completion of the refinery in March, 1944.

The Universal Oil Products Co., one of the leading authorities on oil refining in the world, has been consulted by the Dominion government concerning methods, and that tracing oil from the sands, and for reports on the best methods of refining the tar sands products.

Eight thousand five hundred miners in Alberta and British Columbia will vote Monday for or against acceptance of the decision of the Royal Commission headed by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor which directs that a wage increase of $1 a day be paid to miners below the rank of foreman or comparable rank, and also that two weeks' holiday annually with pay at the basic daily wage rate be granted.

LESTER, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A London dispatch from Washington yesterday said an announcement was expected soon in Washington on a meeting of Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Stalin.

There has been no Allied confirmation of any meeting at the moment, but it is widely expected that the three will meet in the near future.

"The crucial question of our time is whether we are to witness another great depression and another world war, or whether we are to witness a new era of peace and prosperity."

"These two are really inseparable for experience has shown us that economic depression creates the conditions of fear, insecurity and poverty which are the breeding ground of war."

"Depression is the surest road to World War No. 3 just as prosperity is the surest road to peace."

"The answer to this crucial question of our time is whether we are to witness another great depression and another world war, or whether we are to witness a new era of peace and prosperity."

Drives West Russian Army Takes Initiative Near Zhitomir

By M. S. HANDLER

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

MOSCOW, Nov. 22.—The Red army has created the initiative in the Ukraine in the Zhitomir sector of the Ukraine to capture three villages and two commanding heights. From dispatches reported today, and the tide of battle once more is flowing westward.

Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin's left wing, after being on the defensive eight days and losing Zhitomir, again was fighting the battle its own way with every promise of success. The German army reported today, and the tide of battle once more is flowing westward.

There was no immediate Allied confirmation but military observers in London had been promising the prospect of holding Samos.

The German attack against the island was launched last week. Leros, 30 miles south of Samos, was captured by the Germans on Tuesday after a five-day battle.

Samos, Leros and Kos were occupied by British forces at the time of the Italian capitulation last September. It is an apparent effort to obtain a foothold in the Aegean for a possible thrust into the Balkans.

Make Several Moves

Swift Russian Offensive Keeps Hitler and His Staff on Jump

By EDWIN SHANKE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 22 (AP)—The swift Russian offensive has kept Hitler and his headquarters staff on the jump, forcing them to move seven times within the last two months, a reliable informant from Germany who has contacts with Hitler's bodyguard said Saturday.

This informant said that just before Hitler went to Munich earlier this month, he addressed various Nazi party members he had moved his headquarters within a few miles northeast of the Polish border.

At no time has Hitler's headquarters been closer than 10 miles behind the last line of German defense. He travels by train when German retreats force him farther westward, the informant said.

WELL CAMOUFLAGED

"The perfect camouflage of Hitler's headquarters is his anonymity," the informant continued. "Aviators flying over the spot even at low altitudes are unable to detect it. As high as 40 anti-aircraft guns were counted around the last location."

"Russian aircraft have flown frequently over the spot without spotting it and defence batteries are instructed not to go into action unless actually attacked."

"Air raid shelters are always at hand, and when Russian aircraft approach there is great nervousness. Hitler goes into the shelter immediately."

Here are other details as related by this informant:

SPECIAL GUARDS

In addition to Hitler's personal storm-trooper bodyguard of 300 selected men at headquarters, there also are special Gestapo and infantry units stationed within a radius of five or six miles around the spot.

Among the Nazis, Himmler and Goebbels are Hitler's closest visitors. Goering seldom has appeared in recent months. He has his own air force headquarters.

Hitler in a typical day at headquarters arises at 6 a.m. and confers with his general staff. Later, he receives his ministers. His relations with the generals have become more distant during these meetings, which last for more than two hours. Hitler's excited, impatient voice often can be heard outside.

After the military conference, he turns to state affairs and receives the reports of his ministers. Even at the front he is interested in the most trivial affairs and issues with details.

DRINKS BRITISH TEA

Hitler has a heavy lunch at 1.30. He has acquired a taste for tea—British brand.

In the afternoon he again receives ministers and high-ranking Nazi leaders. Afterward he again confers with his military staff, but this dinner—which is usually two dishes with tea.

He receives another brief report on developments at the front about midnight and retires about 2 a.m.

He apparently requires little sleep and except for a few moments of rest, he is not very tired.

However, his humor is bad and he gives the impression of being constantly tired from the strain of so many conferences.

Retail Merchants

Discuss Supplies

Members of the provincial board of the Alberta branch of the Retail Merchants' Association met Monday at the Macdonald hotel to discuss reports of the special committee that recently met in Ottawa. Cabinet ministers and officials of the War-time Prices and Control Board relative to food and other merchandise supplies.

The committee conferred with Hon. Louis St. Laurent, minister of justice, Hon. James A. Macdonald, minister of trade and commerce, Mr. E. G. Burton, of the War-time Prices and Control Board, and Dr. F. S. Grisdale, director of food distribution.

A. G. Mackay, Calgary, secretary of the Alberta branch of the Retail Merchants' Association, said that the resolutions governing policy in the province will be formulated at the meeting as a result of the board's findings on the report of the delegates to Ottawa.

Thieves Get Large

Haul Drugs, Cash

A large quantity of narcotic drugs and $200 in cash were obtained by a thief or thieves who broke into the premises of the Drug Store at 1140 9th street between Saturday evening and Sunday noon.

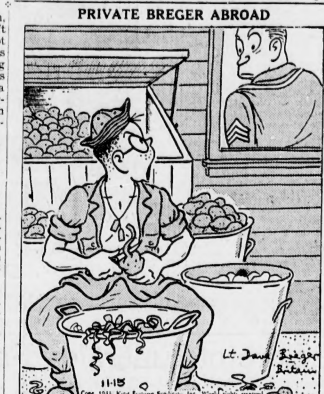

The burglars broke a padlock and steel chain holding the outer rear door and then picked a Yale lock, probably with the aid of a crowbar.

Drugs and cash were in the haul of drugs. Nothing else was taken, proprietor Steele, who lives at the store, informed police.

Morphine, cocaine, heroin and opium were taken in the haul of drugs.

The store was closed Saturday night until noon Sunday.

Det. Sgt. Martin Moore is investigating.

"It sure is lucky for the Army I like this sort of thing!"

Allies Plan Psychological Drive To Speed Surrender of Germany

LONDON, Nov. 22 (CP)—A psychological offensive to attract bomb-broken Germany's surrender, which may be launched by Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Roosevelt and Premier Stalin.

In the absence of any confirmation as yet of a tri-continental conference of the three United Nations leaders, speculation in London has been on the possibility of a declaration of principles for the treatment of defeated Germany which would indicate what the future holds for the German people after their war lords capitulate. There have been fresh rumors of German peace feelers seeking a definition of what "unconditional surrender" would mean. One such rumor said German resistance on the home front is being bolstered by the uncertainty as to the country's probable fate.

Another rumor said German military leaders had turned to Foreign Minister Numan Menckel for advice on the probable peace terms if they agreed to an "unconditional surrender."

Edgar, editor of the "Daily Worker," said that the only term was "unconditional surrender."

Lancashire Lass, 24, First East-West Air Stowaway

MONTREAL, Nov. 22 (CP)—The first east-west Atlantic air stowaway—a fair-haired, 24-year-old Lancashire lass—left Canadian immigration officials, holding her in detention since her arrival at nearby Dorval airport yesterday morning, that the reason for her venture was a desire "to learn to fly."

"Pussy Margaret Drury of Manchester, Eng., eased her comely figure into the plane after being told an Atlantic plane was to arrive at Dorval airport. She was a success so I thought I'd give it a try," Canada's chief immigration officer said. "She is a native of Lancashire, England, and she is a very good pilot."

The department of immigration is holding her pending sitting of a board of inquiry here Monday and they would say nothing about her and her mental disposition of the case.

C.F. Leader Tells of Needs Post-War Era

"We have learned from bitter experience that shocks and collapse in the world economy, wherever they occur, have been the result of dislocation to Canadians. Tariff policies established by states in the world have immediately affected the livelihood of farmers in Canada, the development of industry, the position of the laborer, the position of the Canadian loggers. There is no longer any question that the world economy, the question is whether we shall seek to introduce planning into our relations with other countries on the basis of mutual needs, as we do in war, or whether we shall revert to the chaos we knew in the thirties, with the sure result that trade and intercourse between nations will be again a mere trifle."

"Before the war Canada stood second among the nations of the world in the value of international trade, per capita, and sixth in the actual volume of international trade. The good first in the world of tourist trade. Canada, too, before the war, produced huge quantities of wheat, and was one of the world's great exporters of certain metals. Her dependence on the world economy was obvious."

Hit Makin, Tarawa U.S. Forces Landed On Gilbert Islands

By CHARLES McMURTRY

PEARL HARBOR, T.H., Nov. 22 (AP)—Powerful United States forces, carrying the fight to a new section of Japan's Pacific outposts, have landed on Makin and Tarawa Islands, about midway between New Guinea and Hawaii.

The United States marines and army troops pushed ashore at Makin and Tarawa, which are in the Gilbert Islands, about 1,000 miles from the U.S. Pacific fleet, announced in a communique today, under the command of Maj. Gen. Arthur A. MacArthur Jr. and after those nearby islands had been pounded for a week by bombing planes.

The assault forces met only moderate resistance at Makin Island, but they were met by a fierce fight at Tarawa and the battle continued for several days.

Since the Japanese on Tarawa had been holding out for 24 hours when the communiques were issued, it appeared that American forces were up against a will, die or retreat proposition.

Charge Mosley To Follow Soviet Forces Take Initiative Near Zhitomir

By ROGER GREENE

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Secretary Theodore Brambley, British press, said today that he had sent a message to his followers shortly before his release from Moscow, telling them to "keep your courage up" in the face of the Russian offensive.

Meanwhile, the whereabouts of Sir Oswald and Lady Mosley, who were released from prison before Saturday, still are being kept secret, known only to officials and a few close relatives.

The government said the decision to release the couple, imprisoned since 1940, was based on Sir Oswald's general demeanor and on the fact that he was a member of the House of Commons.

The meeting adopted a resolution insisting that the government reserve its decision on the Mosley's release.

The executive committee of the Communist Party adopted a similar resolution.

Leaders at the meeting said mass demonstrations would be held in Trafalgar square.

Coldwell Says Murray Charge Aimed at C.C.F.

BIGGAR, Sask., Nov. 22.—(CP)—Mr. J. Coldwell, national leader of the C.C.F., said in an address here that the statement by Maj. Gladstone Murray, former general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, that there were plans for a general strike in Canada soon after the war, was part of a new campaign launched against the C.C.F.

At a public meeting here Saturday night, Mr. Coldwell referred to Maj. Murray's address Friday night in the Toronto branch of the General Alumni Association of Queen's University.

Mr. Murray had said "There is no evidence now a complete plan for a general strike in Canada soon after the war." This strike is for the purpose of revolutionary action. Its planners have not yet considered themselves with any grievances on which the strike will normally be based."

Mr. Coldwell said that Maj. Murray's statement was part of a bitter campaign launched against the C.C.F. by powerful industrial and financial organizations.

The C.C.F. leader asserted that his party would have won 49 of the 80 seats in the last Ontario general election if civilians had voted for the C.C.F. in the same proportion as soldiers.

Mr. Coldwell also said that Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture, had tried to drive a wedge between the farmers and organized labor by making his charge of slowdowns in packing plants.

Mr. Gardiner said at Theodore, Sask., last week that a recent slowdown in packing plants was followed by the C.I.O. which he said was a strong right arm of the C.C.F.

At Regina, J. J. Burns, manager of the Burns and Company Regina packing plant, said employees of that plant are making day-in-day-out records in production to meet the heavy livestock marketings in the industry's history.

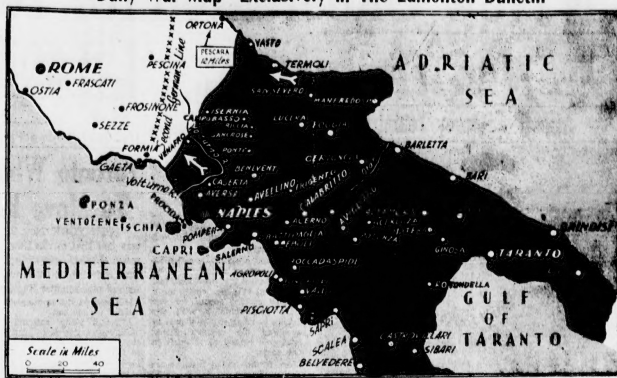

REPEATS CRITICISM

Speaking at Asquith, Mr. Coldwell repeated previous criticism of the federal government's agricultural policies. He suggested that the high mechanization of the Canadian armed forces would lead to an increase in the demand for mechanization of the farms.

Fatally Injured

KITCHENER, Ont., Nov. 22.—(CP)—Ald. Irvin Benson, 39 years a member of the Kitchener city council, died in hospital here yesterday from fractures suffered last Wednesday when he was struck on the head by the handle of a baling machine at the Victory Salvage Co.

Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin

Dispatches from Italy exaggerate the vigor of Allied attacks. Every day or so we are told that the Allies have made another gain of five or eight miles. Yet the map shows that the whole line advances very slowly towards Rome. If the Allies had gained along the whole front all the miles of gains reported, they would have captured Rome long ago. The stories cabled have been substantially correct. But the gains have been local and of a nibbling character. It would take a dozen of them to advance the whole front five miles.

Air Power by Maj. Alexander P. de Seversky

According to recent press dispatches, Anglo-American air power has been given a "deadline" for knocking Germany out of the war by aerial offensive. If it does not finish the job by the specified date, air strategy will be considered ineffective and a full-parade invasion of Europe by land forces will be launched.

These reports have all the earmarks of official inspiration, and in any event, they have not been denied. There must be a good and sufficient political or psychological reason for the amazing story, since the air force is the only force that can be used in a purely military sense.

The purpose of the present aerial offensive against Germany is to bring the country to its knees by air power, which is to say, by a minimum investment of money and men in human life. Why this must be achieved by a certain time is not clear.

The injection of the time angle by talk about "deadlines" may have some political meaning. In military terms it is gibberish. Heretofore the setting of a "deadline" for air power is also dangerous for another reason. It may have the effect of inducing those in command of air power, in their eagerness to meet the time limitation, to throw in all their chips. They may be tempted to spend an all-out air offensive prematurely.

For instance, official announcement has been made that new and vastly stronger aircraft will be put into action in the near future. A "deadline" which did not permit the full application of that improved equipment would, on the face of it, be wasteful. The irony of the situation is that air power is apparently being given "either-or" orders by some of the very people responsible for the fact that airmen today have inadequate tools for doing their jobs.

We build huge armies and navies and only after they were built did we realize that they would have to remain largely unemployed until we could acquire sufficient air power to destroy the opposing air power and provide an unopposed air roof over the invasion forces. Even then we were not equipped with proper keeping it until February 1942, on priorities behind battleships and even below army tanks.

MOUNTING OFFENSIVE
As a result, air power today is mounting an offensive against Germany with inadequate and relatively mediocre means. It is doing a magnificent job in slowing down the German war machine despite these handicaps. From the viewpoint of strategic air power, it would be more logical to increase the air potential, whatever the time, rather than to fix an artificial "deadline." Until our air commanders, Air Marshal R. A. S. General, have received and used all the "artificially" imposed deadlines, the destruction of the German war machine from the sky, it seems doubtful strategy to sturm it with bare hands.

Business Has Contributed Much To Better Living

THE organizing and productive genius of modern business has put within the reach of most people riches undreamed of less than a hundred years ago.

The regal carriages of ancient Kings could not compare in luxury with the modern motor car today. The home of yesteryear knew nothing of the wealth of entertainment the smallest radio can bring. The greatest lords of feudal times would have been amazed at the infinite variety of tasty and nutritious foods that daily grace the tables of even modest homes.

Before the day of modern business, mankind toiled long hours at dismal occupations to eke out an existence. Now business coordinates the efforts of scientists, primary producers, manufacturers and distributors to give a higher standard of living which may be still further improved through the cooperation of management and labour.

Adopt Financial Plan For Relief

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Nov. 22.—(AP)—The financial policy for the United Nations relief and reconstruction fund was adopted here today in a form which insures control of short world supplies, and puts a check on countries with gold balances which might compete in world markets for the scarce supplies.

The finance sub-committee of UNRRA announced it adopted the plan which will be presented early this week to the full finance committee and then to the full council of delegates where, it was predicted, the provisions will be passed without amendment.

The plan recommends that member governments either obtaining or giving relief to or from foreign sources, whether in currency or supplies, shall do so only after consulting with UNRRA director Herbert Lehman.

UNRRA said the provision would enable Lehman to obtain complete information on the entire flow of goods about the world.

Publication Urged Of Labor Reports By United Church
TORONTO, Nov. 22.—(CP)—The United Church of Canada announced last night its board of evangelism and social service urged a resolution urging publication of the majority and minority reports of the National War Labor Board.

The church board's executive requested its chairman, Rev. J. Gallagher, and its secretary, Dr. J. H. McIntyre, to study the question of nationalizing the beverage alcohol industry. The executive also expressed regret at friction it said had occurred between federal and provincial authorities, urged that neither side should be permitted to be permitted to work in industry and appealed for an increase in the number of day nurses in Canada.

Newfoundland Loan Is Fully Subscribed
ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 22.—(CP)—Newfoundland's second victory loan of $2,000,000, which opened for subscriptions Nov. 3, has been fully subscribed. The loan went on sale in the outposts for the first two weeks and then was made available to residents of the capital.

Dies in Fire
CHARLOTTE, N.C., Nov. 22.—(CP)—The fire that gutted the Graham Hotel on Graham street here yesterday, claimed the life of William Cheever, first great war veteran. Cheever's body was found a few feet from the hotel's main entrance. The fire broke out just before noon.

District News in Brief

GRANDE PRAIRIE.—The McLaughlin, Beaman, was nominated Social Credit candidate for the Grande Prairie constituency to contest the next provincial election, at a constituency convention held here Nov. 18. Douglas McFarlane of Beaver Lodge, who had good support from the local districts was the only other candidate.

William Sharpe, former M.L.A. for Grande Prairie, was nominated by W. Reine, Weathers, first vice-president, and Peter McLaughlin, second vice-president.

Resolutions passed dealt with a request for improved telephone communication between Grande Prairie and Dawson Creek, and for government assistance with machinery on outlying homesteads. Payment to be made in grain.

Guest speaker, A. V. Bourcier, M.L.A. for St. Albert, charged that both the co-ordinated money system and socialism were one and the same, both aiming at dictatorship. Social Credit is opposed to both systems he declared.

Referring to the suggestion that the C.C.F., the Progressive Labor and the Social Credit parties unite, at least for the next election, the speaker said, "When such a union takes place it is a sign that those parties are not on the way out. Social Credit is not on the way out it is on the way up."

Among the problems faced by the organizers is a shortage of experienced players.

More than 200 old timers had a reunion Wednesday in the local Elks Hall. W. Henson, president of the Old Timers Association, greeted the visitors. A picture show, cards and refreshments were enjoyed.

Fear Dependents Can't Pay Rent For New Houses

With the minimum monthly rentals set at $32 it is impossible for dependents of servicemen to obtain the 250 new houses now under construction by Wartime Housing, Ltd., in Edmonton for the relief of congestion in this city.

That was view expressed by Secretary-Manager W. J. Williams, of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion, B.C.L.C., at the regular monthly meeting of the branch held Sunday in the Memorial Hall. Mr. Williams made the observation in connection with the reading of a letter from an official of Wartime Housing, Ltd., in which the latter was replying to a request of the Canadian Legion branch here for representation on an Edmonton committee to be established in connection with the housing.

CONSIDER REQUEST
The official wrote that consideration was being given the request of the Legion but it should be understood that no class or organization would receive consideration on the committee as such.

Mr. Williams said that another official of Wartime Housing had ventured the opinion that no family of servicemen should be evicted of the houses now under construction.

The reason is that a soldier's wife can pay the rents demanded of $32 a month minimum and $48 a month maximum, he continued.

As a result of this situation I think it's time that we bring more pressure to bear on the courts to prevent evictions," he continued.

"If Wartime Housing Ltd. has made it impossible for families of soldiers to obtain houses under construction then it is only reasonable that the courts should be evicted of families of servicemen from homes they are at present occupying. That would at least bring an end to this business of wives of soldiers and their veterans wandering around the streets looking for a place to live, causing worry to their relatives and others," he said.

The secretary-manager told the meeting that Mrs. Rose Beaudry, wife of a returned man, who had been missing with her small boy for some days had come to the Legion office Saturday evening. The woman had been sleeping with friends while searching for a house. The family of seven had been evicted from a house about a month ago.

SLEEPING IN BASEMENT
This woman had been sleeping in the basement of a room in a city block which is not fit for a home. It was her husband's work as a welder of soldiers' dependents, he added.

Membership of the Edmonton branch of the Legion now stands at 1,352.

Cigarettes worth $97 have been sent to men overseas in the past few months with $65 worth of cigarettes going to soldiers in city hospitals.

Removal of the business case was given over to a discussion of bylaws.

President H. E. Tanner was in the chair.

It was the first meeting of the branch since a bylaw amendment made the third Sunday of each month the regular date of meeting instead of the third Thursday.

Tankers Collide In Heavy Fog
LEWIS, Del. Nov. 22.—(AP)—Two tankers collided early yesterday in a heavy fog for the Delaware Channel and authorities announced last night that 29 survivors were landed here.

The navy said an undetermined number of men are missing.

Following the collision one of the ships caught fire, but, although damaged, was able to proceed to an unidentified Atlantic port under its own power.

Coast guard rescue boats from the scene of the collision, about 50 miles off Cape Henlopen. Efforts were being made to save the burning ship, but the navy declines to comment on the progress of the fight against the flames.

Pending completion of an investigation, the navy declined to comment on the cause of the collision.

Heroism, Destruction and Death Marked Life in Naples Prior to and Immediately After Capture of City By Allies

Youthful guerillas like these fought the Germans in Naples during the last hectic days preceding Allied occupation of the city. All anti-Fascists, some were only 14 years old. They killed as many as 30 Nazis daily.

One Nazi who escaped death was this soldier surrendering to a 15-year-old youth. After the Germans in Naples heard of Italy's truce with the Allies, they ran berserk, looting homes and shooting civilians.

Aerial bombs like this were found fastened to notches in trees along the Naples-Benevento road. When fired by an electrical device, the bombs were supposed to blast the trees across the road, covering the Nazi retreat. The Allies' advance was so fast, they never did go off and this one was salvaged as a souvenir.

Fuehrer's Fire Girl

Hitler, who once said the duty of women of the Reich was solely to bear children to grow up and become Nazis, has evidently changed his mind. Here a German girl helps a fireman with a hose as manpower shortage forces Nazis to recruit more and more women for heavy jobs.

CHAPTER XII
NANCY was out when they reached home. Jim and Emily ate in the kitchen, over Ellen's protest. Cold roast beef, a salad, biscuits and preserves, custard, seed tea.

"Them biscuits was fresh baked," said Ellen with menace. "Now they're stone cold."
"Heat 'em up," said Emily cheerfully. "I'm so hungry I could eat a horse. I don't know why I had an elegant lunch at the Lonsdale Post."

"What's that?" asked Jim.
"Oh, we'll have to take you some time," she said. "I forgot you didn't know. I ran into Frank and he insisted it was lunch time, and I was weak, and went."

"Frank?" he said. "Cutting Nancy out are you?"
"Don't be silly." But to her annoyance, she felt the color rising. He was instantly very kind and understanding, and she felt her apron strings, demanded more tea and another custard.

"What in the world," demanded Hilly, entering the kitchen, "is this all about?"
"I'm playing court to our Emily," said Jim solemnly.
"Don't be ridiculous," said Emily shortly.

"He took her to lunch," explained Jim, "and she's going to the Club."

HOLD EVERYTHING
When his office hours were over and he had been upstairs to see Dr. Hilly, he yawned, stretched, felt suddenly tired. It would be pleasant to return to the apartment on his radio, read a little while before turning in. Perhaps there wouldn't be any calls. Then he remembered that he had promised Hilda Karsten he would run out to the hospital and see her before he would not disturb her.

"You ought to be in bed," said Hilly. "I have my half day off tomorrow," she said.
"I'm going to see Hilda Karsten. Want to ride along?" he inquired.

"Of course," she jumped up and went to the car with him. She said as they drove toward the hospital, "It's such a marvelous night. I was hoping you'd come. I was hoping you'd come."

"After a while," he asked cautiously.
"Where'd Nancy go?" Emily replied vaguely. "I seem to me that I heard something about a beach picnic."
"Why don't you ever go along?" "Are you being sorry for me?" she said, quickly. "You needn't be. I don't want to, really. Nancy always asks me, but—well, I don't find it as amusing as I used to. I don't like to go now and then. But I can't racket around all night and feel like work the next morning."

His call at the hospital was brief, he came smiling to the car where Emily waited.
"Everything all right?" he announced.

When they drove in Nancy was sitting on the steps waiting for them. She said as they came from the garage together.
"Where in time have you been?" Jim explained, and Nancy commented.

"Don't sound much like fun."
